

For each term from the lesson: (i) write a precise definition, (ii) explain its theological significance in ONE sentence.

1. The lesson teaches that Genesis has TWO creation accounts that are complementary, not contradictory. Complete the comparison table using ONLY information from the lesson:

2. The lesson states that Genesis 1 and 2 use the technique of recapitulation. In your own words, explain what this means. Why would a writer choose this technique?

3. The Six Days follow a theological pattern: Days 1–3 create the REALMS; Days 4–6 fill them with RULERS. Fill in the table and then answer the question below:

4. What does this Realm → Ruler parallel structure tell us about the nature of God's creative work? Use the lesson's phrase "purposeful and ordered" in your answer.

5. The lesson identifies FIVE dimensions of what it means to be made in the imago Dei. List all five and for each one, give a real-life example of how it shows in human behaviour.

6. The lesson says dominion is NOT "a licence for destruction" but means "responsible, caring management." Using the lesson's analogy of a king's steward, explain the difference between dominion and destruction. How does this understanding of imago Dei change how Christians should treat the environment?

7. The lesson presents FOUR views on how to interpret Genesis 1 (Young Earth Creationism, Day-Age Theory, Framework/Literary View, Theistic Evolution). Using ONLY the information given in the lesson, complete this table and then answer the question:

8. The lesson states: "The key question all Christians agree on: WHO created? God. WHY? Out of love and purpose." Explain why this shared agreement is more theologically important than the disagreements about HOW and WHEN. Write at least FOUR sentences.
