

For each part of speech from the lesson: write the definition AND the test question the lesson gives you to identify it.

1. The lesson uses this sentence for analysis: "The ancient river carved its relentless path through the limestone valley, slowly and silently." Label EVERY word with its part of speech. Then answer the questions below:

2. The lesson distinguishes FOUR types of noun. Identify the type of noun underlined in each sentence:

3. Modal verbs — the lesson explains that modal verbs signal the writer's attitude toward certainty. Rewrite each sentence using a DIFFERENT modal verb and explain how the meaning changes:

4. The lesson states: "Abstract nouns elevate your writing. Instead of 'He was brave,' write 'His courage was undeniable.'" Write THREE more pairs like this — a basic adjective version and an elevated abstract noun version. Then explain in one sentence WHY the abstract noun version is stronger.

5. A Level 6 examiner expects you to not just say "there is a verb here" but to explain the effect. Write an analytical sentence about the verb "carved" in the lesson's example sentence. Use the lesson's model: "The writer uses the [type] verb '...' to..."

6. The lesson warns about a common ESL error: confusing adjectives and adverbs. Explain the difference between an adjective and an adverb. Then correct these three errors from the lesson and explain what was wrong in each case: (a) "She ran quick." (b) "He is a hardly worker." (c) "The brilliantly scientist..."
