

For each term from the lesson: write a precise definition AND state one specific historical fact connected to it.

1. The lesson identifies SEVEN features that historians use to define a civilisation. For each feature, explain it AND give one specific example from EITHER Mesopotamia or Egypt as given in the lesson:

2. The lesson covers four key aspects of Mesopotamia. Answer each question using ONLY information from the lesson:

3. The lesson quotes Herodotus: "Egypt is the gift of the Nile." Using information from the lesson, explain this statement fully. What did the Nile provide? What was the "Black Land" and the "Red Land"?

4. The lesson covers five notable pharaohs. Complete the table using ONLY information from the lesson:

5. The lesson states that the Great Pyramid was NOT built by slaves, as "recent archaeology shows they were skilled, paid workers who received food, healthcare, and burial honours." Why is this significant as a piece of historical evidence? What does it change about how we understand ancient Egypt?

6. The lesson provides a detailed comparison of Mesopotamia and Egypt. Using ONLY the lesson's five comparison points, fill in the table:

7. The lesson's exam technique says: "When comparing two civilisations, always use SIMILARITY → DIFFERENCE → SIGNIFICANCE. Do not just list facts — explain WHY the differences matter." Using this structure, write a comparison of how Mesopotamia and Egypt each developed WRITING. Include: what the system was, when it developed, what it was used for, and why the difference in purpose matters.
